

- 5 Read Galatians 6:10. Why do you think that we are told to give special attention to those who share our faith?
- 6 “Eternal life” refers to both the quantity of life (“everlasting”) as well as the quality of life. We can’t add to the quantity of the lives of people around us, but we can add to the quality of their lives, and in that way we follow the example of Jesus.
- A Do you recall a moment when a Christ-follower became a life-giver for you, improving the quality of your life? If so, tell the story.
- B What kinds of needs in the lives of those around you most tug on your heart, and make you eager to express your love for them?
- 7 Of the past or future opportunities that Mike mentioned for Heights attenders to work together to be life-givers, which ones were most exciting to you? Are there any in which you hope to get personally involved?
- 8 Of the four characteristics that we have studied these last four weeks (Humble, Thirsty, Peace-Seeking, Life-Giving), which seems to come most naturally to you? Which do you find most challenging?
- 9 In what ways do you hope to become more of a life-giver after this study?
